

Violet's Family

Violet was a girl who lived with her brother and grandparents. Her grandmother used to sew clothes and make new house items sitting home. Grandpa used to read newspapers daily and was a farmer. Brother had a small shop with lots of different, wooden, stuffed toys and decorating pieces made out of old newspapers, wood, clay and colored with paint, all of these things were made by Noa (the brother). She used to help her grandma by cooking meals, taking care of the house, pets and the garden. One day, Violet's grandma bought her a soft, woolen blanket which was white in color. It was snug as a bug. She was over the moon. They already had a lot of blankets before so, she decided to give it to someone poor and needy in the village. The next day, Violet decided to go to a slum with her brother to give the blanket to someone.

Violet: Brother! Come on we're gonna be late!!

Noa: Hold your horses Violet I'm coming!!!!

Then Violet's brother asked Violet "Where is the location? Is it too far away?"

"No brother, just a few kilometers to go, don't worry, it's a piece of cake!" replied Violet.

Noa: Huh I'm tired, life is truly a roller coaster"

Violet: Brother you are so impatient, we're almost there!!

It was freezing outside, Violet and Noa gave the blanket to an old lady living in a small cottage.

She appreciated so much!!

The old lady: Thank both of you so much for helping me, I was almost near death in this winter, you two are an angel, thank you so much!!!

Then they started their journey to their house and saw a little kitten passing by, it was injured.

Violet: Wow!! Look brother this little kitten! Aww

Noa: No Violet, over my dead body, we can't take it home without grandma's permission, she will scold us!!

Violet: No brother, look, grandma has always taught us kindness, in fact, instead of getting angry, she will be happy, trust me!! And also the snow is out of hand, could we not help her out of this?

Noa: Ok fine, let's take it with us...

Violet: Thanks brother you're the best!

Then they took it home and take care of it and put bandage over the area where it got injured (it was in one of its legs). They visited a pet's doctor to see if the kitten had any sickness other than its legs. It was completely fine, the doctor said that it was about three months old. Noa and Violet bought a brown blanket, comfortable enough for the kitten, which was made by Violet's grandma. They also bought wooden bowls for the kitten to feed it. They named the kitten Jerry. The kitten was yellowish brown in color. Jerry used to sleep like a dog every time on his bed which was snug as a bug.

One day, it was beautiful weather and sky, the wind was blowing like crazy, the trees were dancing in the air. On that day Noa and Violet didn't go to work. It was also heavy raining, raining like crazy. All in all it was crazy weather. So, they decided to stay home and play games with their family like UNO, ludo and carom in that gorgeous weather. After playing, Grandma made a cute dress for Jerry which fits like a glove on her (it was a female cat). It was a happy family.
